Auto Mode

The AcuScen Auto has a single mode for natural pain relief management and is also useful for acute problems. It is used on a clearly defined area of discomfort or applied to an acupoint. Start with the most painful point and keep the device stationary until the audio beep/display automatically signals when treatment is complete. The device may then be moved to an adjacent area and the process repeated until all the problem area is covered. Energy and Modulation settings can be adjusted.

Ideal for quick first aid, treatment of minor muscle aches and pains, the acute conditions, general "pick-me-up" and stress-relief. There are several methods of the device application, all described in the Manual (included) and based on TCM (Traditional Chinese Medicine).

Energy Output (adjustable units)	1 to 99 (adjusted, same power as Pro+ model)
Frequency (Hz)	77 (pre-set)
Damping (waveform)	OFF (pre-set)
Modulation settings	1:1, 1:2, 2:1, 1:3, 3:1, 1:4, 4:1, 1:5, 5:1, OFF
Depth (number of impulses in the block)	1-4 (Automatic)

ACUSCEN is CE-marked and is certified by the British Standards Institute (BSI) for pain-relief and stress management. EC Certificate No: CE 85858

ACUSCEN devices are listed with the Australian Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA). EC Certificate No: CE 85858 and ARTG No: 157698
