

SCENAR COSMODIC PS705Ag

Semi-professional Devices

SCENAR COSMODIC PS705Ag is a semi-professional SCENAR COSMODIC series model employing COSMODIC technology. It is intended for both use at home and professional practice. Fully automated action and operation. Very power-saving.

Innovations

The new model has all capabilities of pro devices. Full range of automated features — switch-on, regulation of energy and depth of action — always ensure that your treatment will be effective.

Accurate indication of search of the optimal areas for treatment.

When you work with vaginal and rectal electrodes the device automatically switches to the special tender impulse and switches itself off after the minimum required time of action is over. This makes such delicate process simple and convenient in home environment.

Flat and thin casing of the device is convenient to lie on when you need prolonged action on the same area.

SCENAR COSMODIC PS705Ag can be a wonderful assistant to the professional device. With PS705Ag you can experience all the benefits of silver electrodes.

Main features

- touch switch-on
- regulating action energy automatically
- “dynamic adaptation” mode allowing you to manage stimulation during prolonged action automatically
- determining areas for action
- LED and sound indication;
- switching sound off and on
- detachable silver electrodes;
- connecting remote electrodes;
- automatic tuning in to remote electrodes;
- automatic switch-over to action on mucous membranes when using rectal and vaginal electrodes.

Indication

LED indication displays:

- contact of the electrodes with skin
- preliminary analysis of the treated area
- levels of action energy
- body reaction
- end of the action dose
- activation of “dynamic adaptation”
- timer for action upon mucous membranes
- battery status

Electrodes

The silver electrodes of PS705Ag are detachable and made in a form of three bars, which are flat on the under side and rounded at the front end of the device. The rounded part is convenient for treatment of small or hard-to-reach areas (for example, on the face). The flat part is mainly used for treatment of large areas. The electrodes are made of silver according to the special technology, which allows maintaining the natural structure of silver. This provides additional healing effect and more accurate signal of action.

Silver is known for its bactericidal, antiseptic, anti-inflammatory and styptic effects. Silver is a natural bactericidal metal effective against 650 kinds of bacteria which do not acquire resistance to it, like to most antibiotics.

Casing

SCENAR COSMODIC PS705Ag and PS705 are encased in “Pocket M” series casing. Waterproof keyboard and sealants make disinfection and cleaning of the device easy. The casing is made of shockproof (3 mm thick) ABS plastic.

Size

115 x 58 x 23 mm
